STATE ROUTE 330 FINAL WORK

San Bernardino County – Caltrans is close the completing the State Route 330 (SR-330) slope rehabilitation project. Some final work is required on the roadbed above the slope at the upper limits of the project. Therefore, a couple of nighttime closures will be necessary. Caltrans made the decision to delay this work until after the Thanksgiving holiday to allow motorists full access to SR-330.

On Monday, November 27 and Tuesday, November 28, SR-330 will close with no escorts from 8:00 p.m. to 5:30 a.m. During the daytime on Tuesday, November 28 and Wednesday, November 29, there will be reversible traffic control (with pilot car) from 5:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. The work entails the removal of a portion of the roadbed for the repair of an old drain. The project will be complete by early December 2006.

When you come to a highway work zone, watch out for workers. Drivers cutting in or suddenly changing lanes at the last minute may cause rear-end collisions, which are the most common type of crash in work zones.
